

WEB SITES OF THE WEEK
IT'S ALRIGHT TO WRITE

February 14, 2007

By Angie Corritone, Hidden Hills Elementary

GUIDE TO GRAMMAR AND WRITING

<http://grammar.ccc.commnet.edu/grammar/>

Searchable topics from simple to complex.

Grades 1- 5 IDEAS FOR WRITING

<http://www.authorquest.ecsd.net/main.htm>

WRITING PROMPTS

<http://www.canteach.ca/elementary/prompts.html>

TEACHERS' LOUNGE: VOCABULARY BUILDING

http://www.professorgarfield.org/parents_teachers/links/vocabulary_links.html

A list of links – games, tips, lesson plans and more!

WEB ENGLISH TEACHER: GRAMMAR AND PARTS OF SPEECH

<http://www.webenglishteacher.com/grammar.html>

Interesting and creative activities put grammar theory into practical uses.

BASIC STEPS TO CREATING A RESEARCH PROJECT

<http://www.crlsresearchguide.org/>

A great guide to pick and choose from – makes it easy to differentiate for all levels!

COOL QUOTES

<http://www.coolquotes.com/>

Get inspired to write using these great quotes as a starting point.

THE WRITING CENTER \, UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

<http://www.wisc.edu/writing/Handbook/index.html>

For older students – great resource and writer's handbook.

AUTHOR QUEST

<http://www.authorquest.ecsd.net/main.htm>

Great for differentiation. WebQuest projects intended for upper grades.