

WEB SITES OF THE WEEK
CURL UP and READ!

Wednesday, November 1, 2006
By Angie Corritone, Hidden Hills Elementary

Tumble Books from the Contra Costa Library

<http://www.ccclib.org/webchk/tbook/portal.html>

Use your ed1Stop and/or library card to access this amazing resource. Sit back and listen at your own speed. Puzzles and games, too.

SCORE CyberGuides

<http://www.sdcoe.k12.ca.us/score/cyberguide.html>

Supplementary units based on literature, designed for students to use with the Web.

The Teachers' Lounge

http://www.professorgarfield.org/parents_teachers/home.html

Click on Educational Links (left side) for a list of resources on teaching fluency, vocabulary, etc... There are also enrichment games for kids and printable materials.

Kids Reads

<http://www.kidsreads.com/>

For ages 6 – 12, this site has author bios, games related to various books, and book reviews.

Marilee's Picturebook Links

<http://www.marilee.us/authors.html>

Listed by author – includes web links/puzzles. A search for Eric Carle found me a Very Hungry Caterpillar word search and the official Eric Carle web site.

Multicultural Book Reviews

<http://www.isomedia.com/homes/jmele/homepage.html>

Find titles by category. Also multicultural links.

Author Quest

<http://www.authorquest.ecsd.net/main.htm>

Great activity for differentiation: Students research an author based on their dominant multiple intelligence. 5th Grade.

Carol Hurst's Book Review Site

<http://www.authorquest.ecsd.net/main.htm>

Childrens' book reviews and activities.