

WEB SITE OF THE WEEK

By Angie Corritone, Hidden Hills Elementary

January 9, 2008

TITLE: The Internet Public Library ~ KidSpace
AUTHOR: University of Michigan, School of Information
URL: <http://www.ipl.org/div/kidspace/>

NOTES: This site began as a graduate studies project at Drexel University and has since turned into an effective research tool for students, which now pays hired employees and education consultants. This is a collection of hand-picked websites that are kid-friendly, organized, and useful. This site should be on every youngster's list of places to visit before going to Google.

COOL CLICKS:

Teen Space:

<http://www.ipl.org/div/teen/>

Teacher & Parent Resources:

<http://www.ipl.org/kidspace/browse/tcn0000>

CURRICULUM CONNECTIONS:

Author Biographies:

<http://www.ipl.org/div/askauthor/>

California Stately Knowledge:

<http://www.ipl.org/div/stateknow/cal.html>

Culture Quest:

<http://www.ipl.org/div/cquest/>