

WEB SITE OF THE WEEK

By Angie Corritone, Hidden Hills Elementary

February 20, 2008

TITLE: Manual of Traffic Signs
AUTHOR: Richard C. Moeur, Professional Civil Engineer
URL: <http://www.trafficsign.us/index.html>

NOTES: Endless opportunities for fun! This is an entertaining and informational collection of images of probably every type of street sign. The .gifs are copyrighted but can be used for educational projects/publications (for non-commercial purposes). Categories include: regulatory (stop), highway markers (route 66), traffic control (detour), and school (crossing). Bonus categories for standard sign shapes, type face (fonts) and colors allow the user to customize their own signs.

CURRICULUM CONNECTIONS:

<http://www.trafficsign.us/about.html>

An overview about the site that lends itself to classroom integration ideas (i.e. "purpose of traffic signs").

HIDDEN CLICKS:

<http://www.richardcmoeur.com/>

Everything from comments about bicycle safety to road trip maps, to more information about the author.

Other Traffic Sign Websites

<http://members.aol.com/rcmoeur/othrsign.html>

Alphabetical Index

<http://members.aol.com/rcmoeur/sgnalpha.html>