

WEB SITE OF THE WEEK

By Angie Corritone, Hidden Hills Elementary

March 5, 2008

TITLE: Kids.gov
AUTHOR: Office of Citizen Services, U.S. Government
URL: http://www.kids.gov/educators/ed_note.shtml

NOTES: This is the official K-8 kids' portal to the U.S. government, with over 1,200 links. Most sites are intended for kids' use, and there are additional resources with lesson plans, downloadable posters, and classroom activities for teachers.

CURRICULUM CONNECTIONS:

http://www.kids.gov/k_5/k_5_math.shtml

Tie in math skills to social studies with secret codes and statistics.

http://www.kids.gov/k_5/k_5_science_earth.shtml

Government resources about Earth (science).

http://www.kids.gov/k_5/k_5_states.shtml

State websites right at your fingertips!

QUICK CLICKS:

<http://www.kids.gov/>

Jump to the main page for timely news (i.e. primaries) and other appropriate tools.

http://www.kids.gov/k_5/k_5_fun_activities.shtml

Long list of online activities.