

WEB SITE OF THE WEEK

By Angie Corritone, Hidden Hills Elementary

March 19, 2008

TITLE: Math Playground
AUTHOR: Math Playground, Inc. teachers
URL: <http://www.mathplayground.com>

NOTES: Need word problems for tomorrow's lesson? Want your students to work on math facts at home? Interested in jazzing up your math time with some interactive logic puzzles like rubik's cube or geoboards? This site has it all, including a huge library of math videos (done by kids) and podcasts on a wide range of topics for grades 1 – 8.

COOL CLICKS:

Logic Games

<http://www.mathplayground.com/logicgames.html>

Simon says (electronic version),

Mathcasts Project

<http://math247.pbwiki.com/K-7%2BMathcasts%2B500%2BProject>

Listen to podcasts by students on every concept strand for every grade level. Cool! <http://math247.pbwiki.com/5MGI-1>

Word Problem Database

<http://www.mathplayground.com/wpdatabase/wpindex.html>